Our Call to Action

20,198 CHILDREN in founded investigations of child maltreatment

Our Mission

Building strong families and empowering communities to prevent child abuse and neglect in South Carolina

Data source: South Carolina Department of Social Services, state fiscal year 2017-2018.
Our Work

Supporting and Delivering Programs

Bringing our resources and expertise, we partner with local organizations to deliver proven prevention programs. Together we achieve results.

- 8,172 parents, caregivers and children served
- 48 funded organizations

Building Coalitions

No individual, organization or government agency working alone can stop maltreatment. It is imperative that we work together, sharing best practices, expertise and resources.

- 110 members of the Child Well-Being Coalition, representing local, regional and state agencies and organizations
- 2 countywide models created for a population-level health approach to parenting and the prevention of abuse and neglect

Providing Resources

We share expertise and research on how to prevent child abuse and neglect so that South Carolina can use resources effectively and efficiently.

- $3M received and distributed for the pioneering Pay for Success initiative
- 1 county advised: Resilient Richland, a coalition working to prevent trauma and build resilience in Richland County

Leading Prevention Training

Our robust training and professional development opportunities give those working with children and families the prevention know-how to keep kids safe and build strong families.

- 243 trainings
- 6,445 people learned prevention skills

Strengthening Families Program

Giving parents and children the skills to work better together

Collaborating, partnering, engaging, empowering all lead to positive outcomes for children, families, and communities. Children’s Trust of South Carolina masters this comprehensive approach, which supports and engages local communities in strengthening families. We are extremely proud of our relationship with Children’s Trust.

Triple P (Positive Parenting Program)

Building a system of support to meet the needs of South Carolina families

"Children’s Trust and Triple P both have a focus of community transformation and the well-being of children. So with those aligned visions, we then work together to make those things a reality. That’s where the planning comes in and the hard work comes in, by making sure that what we’re doing is actually working and that there is a return of investment."
